

Who should be President?

On February 9, 2008, the choice is yours.

Introducing the Nebraska Democratic Caucus

For too long, Nebraskans have sat on the sidelines while people in other states picked our Presidential nominees. But those days are over.

On February 9, 2008, Nebraska Democrats will meet in neighborhoods across the state to decide who our Party will nominate for President -- as well as discuss the issues facing Nebraskans every day.

*Your County. Your Party.
Your Choice for President.*

The Nebraska Democratic Caucuses will be locally organized. Contact your County Chair for more information on the caucus in your area, and to find out ways that you can help.

We all are ready for a new leader in the White House. On February 9th, help ensure that the new leader is the right one for you!

If you're interested in helping organize, please contact your County Chair:
