Bad Actors?

LINCOLN, NE – Today at a press conference and on KLIN Radio, Sen. Mike Foley identified Ben Nelson as the “bad actor” in the Low Level Nuclear Waste case. What does Foley have to say about his own actions?

BAD ACTOR MIKE FOLEY: As a State Senator AND an employee of NPPD, he tried to cut the state’s funds to defend Nebraska at the benefit of his employer. As an elected official, Foley plotted an outcome that would be profitable for NPPD, disregarding the health and desires of Nebraskans. Foley wanted to tie Nebraska's hands behind its back and now he blames Ben Nelson.

“Considering the messenger, the message is no surprise. Mike Foley is a paid political hack masquerading as an elected official. He is looking for his next campaign job and this is his audition,” said Barry Rubin, Nebraska Democratic Party Executive Director.
